Re: IT Systems Administrator

Dear Hiring Manager

Beevo's IT Systems Administrator role is attractive because it combines hands-on internal IT ownership with the opportunity to improve a growing SaaS company's operating environment. My background spans endpoint deployment, Microsoft 365, identity, automation and enterprise support.

At Australia Post, I managed endpoint diagnostics, imaging, provisioning, Autopilot/UEM enrolment, inventory and compliant disposal, while building ServiceNow automation for repetitive support work. At Capgemini, I supported a large hybrid Microsoft environment across Entra ID, SharePoint, Exchange, Teams and OneDrive, with responsibility for escalations, change and documentation.

I would bring Beevo a practical operator who can keep users productive, make sensible security and configuration decisions, and build the documentation and automation that let a growing environment scale without unnecessary friction.

Yours sincerely

Sam Ludwig
